Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1,2,52,53,60 and 61 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Colson '131.

See operating element 46, first transfer element 140, transmission 44, second transfer element 42, and output assembly 122. Pulling the tape 46 to one side lifts the shade, and pulling to another side releases the clutch and permits the shade to lower under gravity . See first 140 and second 142 gears.

Claims 1,2,17-21,26,27,33-35,41 and 43-46 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Fraczek et al.

Fraczek discloses an operating element 90, first gear 36, second gear 22 and third gear 48. Rotating the chain in one direction raises the shade and rotating it in another (opposite) direction lowers the shade. The spring clutch has legs 52A,B, and 54A,B.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 16 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Colson '131 in view of Fetsch et al.

It would have been obvious to provide such a coupler for the operating means of Colson so as to permit release of the cord before breaking thereof.

Claims 22 and 23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Fraczek et al.

The materials recited are clearly obvious design choices.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 68-75 are allowed.

Claims 3-15,24,28-32,36-40,42,47-51,54-59 and 62-67 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
